REPUBLICANS NOT ENTHUSED.

CONGRESSIONAL CONVENTION TAME.

No Nomination for Congress Made---Saving it for Judge Adams---Abe Middleton Looked on the Convention---A Slight Kick Against Federal Office Holders.

The Republican Congressional convention today was a very tame affair. The attendance was small there, being fewer than 75 people in the court room, and there was absolutely no enthusiasm. The work had all been cut and dried by the bosses, and everything passed off as previously arranged.

In the absence of the chairman, Secretary Sikes called the convention to order and read the official call. Sheriff J. T. Donahoe, of Caswell county, was made temporary chairman. Census Supervisor W. B. Steele nominated Heenan Hughes, of Alamance county, for temporary secretary. Mr. J. R. Joyce nominated Mr. Sikes, and on motion of some delegate both were elected.

A roll call showed all the counties in the district to be represented.

The chair announced the nomination of delegates and alternates to the Republican National convention, which meets in Philadelphia on June 16th, to be the next thing on the program. At this juncture a delegate arose and asked if the convention should not first effect a permanent organization. The secretary spoke a few words in a low tone, after which the temporary chairman called for nominations for delegates and alternates.

G. Will Armfield placed before the convention the name of Spencer B. Adams. Some one else nominated J. A. Norwood. There being no other nominations, they were elected delegates by acclamation.

Henry N. Brown, of Orange county, was nominated as one of the alternates. The delegate who nominated Mr. Brown, eulogized him as a Republican from "'way back," saying that he had voted a straight ticket ever since there had been a Republican party. He had not only done this, but, in the providence of God, he had reared a large family of boys, all of whom are staunch Republicans. The delegate making the nomination stated that Mr. Brown was not an office-holder, and that was where Mr. Brown lost his standing in the convention. J. F. Sprinkle, of Rockingham, and Sheriff Donahoe, of Caswell, were also placed in nomination. The vote was by a roll call, and the result showed that Messrs. Sprinkle and Donahoe were elected, Mr. Brown receiving only four votes.

Some one moved that the election of alternates be made unanimous, but before the motion could be put N. A. Brown, a son of H. N. Brown, arose and asked if the gentlemen just elected were Federal office holders, saying if they were he opposed making their election unanimous. Some sort of an answer was made him, after which Chairman Donahoe declared Messrs. Sprinkle and Donahoe to be the unanimous choice of the convention.

At this stage of the proceedings J. Zeb Waller, of Alamance, who is shortly to be appointed postmaster of Burlington, moved that the nomination of a candidate for Congress be postponed until August 9th. No reason was assigned for the postponement, but the delegates had received their orders and the motion was carried; unanimously. Several aspirants for the nomination were present, but not one of them dared say a word.

By a vote of 13 to 11 it was decided to make the nomination of a candidate for Congress in Durham.

After the convention adjourned several Republicans were interviewed, but not one of them would say why the nomination of a Congressional candidate had been deferred. The general impression is that it is done for the benefit of Judge Adams, the party's nominee for Governor, who, it is generally understood, is to give way to Cyrus Thompson when the Republican and Populist State tickets are amalgamated. If this is not done he will not be averse to taking the nomination for Congress after he is defeated for Governor on the first Thursday in August.

Abe Middleton, the negro politician who is assisting Chairman Holton at Republican headquarters, condescended to attend the convention and benignantly smile on his co-workers. Among the other on-lookers were W. S. Hyams and W. V. Hall, of Republican headquarters; United States Marshal Millikan, and a number of revenue officers.

Only a few of the delegates were negroes, one of whom was Dr. Shepherd, of Durham, who formerly held a position in Collector Duncan's office.

A PRETTY MARRIAGE.

Miss Moore Weds Mr. Hicks---Will Visit Norfolk and Other Places.

A pretty private marriage was celebrated in the parlors of Hotel Guilford last night, the contracting parties being Mr. John W. Hicks, editor of the Murfreesboro, N. C., Index, and Miss Minnie H. Moore, for several years a teacher in Greensboro Female College. The ceremony was performed by Rev. T. A. Smoot, of the college faculty.

Those present by special invitation were: Mr. Hicks, of Louisburg, brother of the groom; Miss Moore, of Greenville, S. C., sister of the bride; Miss Cozart, of Winston; Mrs. Bobo, of Greenboro, and of the college faculty, Mrs. Long, Mrs. Smoot, and Misses Carr, Heiskell and Sneed.

Mr. and Mrs. Hicks left on the 11:45 eastbound train for Norfolk and other points north. Their future home will be in Murfreesboro.

A host of friends join in best wishes for a long, happy and useful life.

The Bride Was Stricken at the Altar.

Hartford, Conn., Dispatch, 25th.

The wedding ceremony for John Wrenn and Miss Hannan Leavitt at St James' Catholic church was startlingly interrupted yesterday by the bride being stricken just as she reach the altar rail.

The church was crowded, and there was many a hysterical scream as the bride was seen to totter and then fall.

The organist ceased playing. The bridesmaid, Miss Nellie Leavitt, hearing the commotion, turned and ran back to her sister. The bridegroom stood as if dazed by the shock.

The bride-elect, still unconscious, was carried into the rectory adjoining the church. Dr. Weldon was hurriedly summoned, and discovered that she was suffering from hemorrhage of the brain.

Father Murphy dismissed the wedding party, informing them that the ceremony had been indefinitely postponed. She will probably recover.

Murdered in Philadelphia.

Prof. Roy Wilson White, a cousin of Mr. David White, secretary of the Southern Loan and Trust Company, and Prof. George W. White, of Guilford College, was murdered in Philadelphia a few nights ago. Prof. White was instructor in the law department of the University of Pennsylvania, and was on his way to the station to take the cars for his home, when he was waylaid and murdered by two negroes. The murderers have been caught and imprisoned.

The murdered man was 29 years old and unmarried. He was a native of Indiana.

The Spinsters Last Night.

The spinsters made no mistake when they decided to repeat their convention last night. The Academy of Music was well filled and every one present thoroughly enjoyed the performance. A few slight changes were made in the program, though in the main it was the same as presented on Friday night.

From the two performances the ladies realized about $150 for the First Presbyterian Church and the Methodist Chapel on Walker avenne.

Called Meeting.

All the members of the West End hose company are requested to meet this evening at 7 o'clock at the reel house. W. B. HUNT, Pres.

To Wed.

The marriage of Miss Mattie B. Hawkins and Mr. Clarence Bogart is announced to take place in St. Andrew's Episcopal church, this city, Thursday evening, June 7th, at 9:30 o'clock. No cards.

After the marriage the bride and groom will leave on an extended bridal tour.

OPENING OF COMMENCEMENT.

DR. ATKINS PREACHES THE SERMON.

"Art Thou He That Should Come or Look We for Another"—Successful Year of the School's Work—Further Announcements of the Program—Art Exhibit—Alumni Meeting This Afternoon, and Col. Bruton's Address Tonight.

The Commencement exercises of one of the most successful years in the history of Greensboro Female College were ushered in this morning, when Rev. James Atkins D. D. of Nashville, Tenn., Sunday School Editor of the M. E. Church, South, preached the annual sermon.

REV. JAMES ATKINS. D. D.

"Praise God from Whom All Blessings Flow," sung by the school and audience, opened the exercises.

After a prayer by Dr. Carraway, and a hymn, Dr. Atkins read for the scripture lesson the third chapter of Corinthians, which was followed by another hymn. President Peacock then in a few well chosen words announced that Dr. Atkins would deliver the annual sermon. Dr Atkins needed no introduction, for he is well and favorably known, not only here but all over the South, as a gifted scholar and theologian and a Christian gentleman of the highest type.

He chose as the text the seventh chapter of Luke and nineteenth verse, "Art thou he who should come, or look we for another." For an hour and twenty minutes Dr. Atkinson held the closest attention of the audience. It is impossible to give even a synopsis of the sermon, which was built upon the text. Emphasis was laid upon the distinguishing feature of Christ's message—that it appeals to every individual separately, that He has come, does and will come to each. He closed by exhorting the young ladies to study the Bible and accept Christ as the guiding principle of their lives.

FURTHER EXERCISES.

At four o'clock the annual Alumnae meeting occurred, when the old pupils met, all of whom were invited to remain for tea at the college.

The annual address occurs tonight, and will be delivered by Col, Jno. F. Bruton, of Wilson, at 8:30.

The art exhibit is in the parlors on the first floor and was opened to visitors at 10 this morning, continuing till tomorrow.

At 10 o'clock tomorrow the graduating exercises will take place in the college chapel.

The annual concert will take place tomorrow night, the admission being by cards.

THE FREE STATE ANNEXED.

Lord Roberts Issues a Formal Proclamation and Changes the Name.

By Wire to the Telegram.

London May 29.—Gen. Roberts has issued a proclamation formerly annexing the Orange Free State. It will be called hereafter the "Orange River State."

A despatch from Lorenzo Marquez dated Monday, says that Kruger has issued a public proclamation warning all people to leave Johannesburg or remain at the peril of their lives as it might become necessary to destroy town and mines.

Pretoria advices say that the British occupied Zeerust Monday and that a large force has been moving on Lichtenburg. Kruger ordered Sunday, Monday and Tuesday to be observed as special days of humiliation and confession of sin, and prayer for the preservation of the country's independence.

The British advance is now within fifteen miles of Johannesburg.

VITALISM IN AMERICA.

Correspondence of the Telegram.

Dr. Pearson arrived here from Pinehurst last night and spoke on "Vitality of Americanism." As announced yesterday he was to have spoken tonight (Tuesday) but changed the date through a telegram. Although it was half past nine when he arrived from Pinehurst a large crowd was present at the M. E. Church to hear his talk. Mr. Pearson was introduced by Dr. W. G. Bradshaw. The speaker commenced by saying that he was to talk on the vitality of Americanism but he didn't believe the subject was appropriate for the audience before him for if such a large crowd could sit up until nearly 10 o'clock waiting to hear what he had to say he thought they had sufficent vitality. They would have to blame the U. S. Government and not him for the lateness of the train. Mr. Pearson addressed the audience for an hour or more holding the undivided atten of every one. His talk was a masterful production, full of good, wholesome advice and common sense. In closing he paid a tribute to North Carolina. He said through the instrumentality of some North Carolinians in Minnesota he was enabled to view the eclipse that morning. He enjoyed mingling with the hospitable people of the this state.

During the eclipse period yesterday it was a regular holiday here. The streets and yards of the town were thronged with people gazing through smoked glasses at old Sol as the moon closed his beaming countenance, nearly hiding his face from view. The sight was a treat to all, especially we youngsters who had never witnessed such a heavenly vision before.

Tomorrow being legal holiday—Labor Day—the postoffice will be closed. After the morning mails the wicket will be open a few minutes.

J. E. Parker and wife of Morristown, N. J., were at the Jarrell yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Pearson were the guests of Mr. J. Edward Cox last night.

High Point, May 29.—H. C. Wilson of Northfield, Minn., was here last night.

W. P. Wood, Esq., was in town yesterday.

A $10,000,000-Baby Ill.

Newport Special, 26th.

For the last few days there has been the greatest anxiety for the life of the infant child of Mrs. John Nicholas Brown. On Thursday it was believed the heir to $10,000,000 was breathing his last.

Tonight the child is much improved, and he is believed to be out of danger. The infant was vaccinated in New York before coming to Newport and caught cold.

HUSBANDS DESERT FAMILIES.

Within the past few days two men have left Greensboro suddenly, deserting their families, though it is only within the past day or two that anything has been known of the occurences. The first husband to vamoose was C. B. Brooks, one of the editors of a paper called the Guilford Vidette. He left town more than a week ago, just before his wife and three children arrived from South Carolina. According to instructions from her husband, Mrs. Brooks shipped her furniture and other household effects from her former home in South Carolina to Greensboro, following with her children with the expectation of residing here. When they arrived here, however, the husband and father had departed, and nothing has since been heard of him.

Mrs. Brooks has reported the matter to the police authorities and asked their assistance in locating her husband.

The other faithless husband is Harry Hamilton, a sign painter, who came here with his wife a few months ago. He left town Saturday, without telling anyone of his intention or destination. At their boarding place on East Lee street he left his wife and a three-weeks-old baby. In addition to this, it is said that he also left numerous creditors in the lurch, the aggregate amount of his indebtedness being considerable.

His wife, whose home is near Louisville, Ky., has no relations living in this section. She has no means for the support of herself and infant and is in a most deplorable and helpless condition.

A postal received from her husband yesterday was dated from Columbia, S. C. He wrote that he would send his wife some money, but did not state when or from what place.

CARRIED THE BRIDE HOME.

Durham Special to Raleigh Post.

Durham has assumed such metropolitan proportions that it is bound to have some kind of a sensation weekly. No sooner than the excitement waned about the concealed birth and secret burial of the nameless kid, than another surprise was sprung upon the people in a Gretna Green affair.

Yesterday, while attending church at Borea, Mr. W. Eugene Massey, son of the Rev. P H, Massey, of Populist fame, and Miss Cervera Barbee, daughter of J. H. Barbee, of Patterson township quietly left the church unobserved and hied them up to Durham, where Leslie Herndon obtained marriage license for them by swearing that the girl was eighteen years old. The young couple repaired to the residence of Samuel A. Brown, in Red Cross street, where 'Squire D. C. Gunter made them man and wife at 1 p. m. Late in the afternoon the father of the bride, J. H. Barbee, arrived in town and stated that his daughter would be only 15 years of age in July; took the new-made bride away from the husband and carried her back to the paternal roof and protection.

ON TO LOUISVILLE.

The Vetrans of the Gray Going to Their Annual Reunion.

A number of Confederate Veterans and their friends passed through yesterday evening enroute to Louisville, Ky., to attend the reunion. The old soldiers were in uniform and were in charge of Gen. Julian S. Carr, commander of the North Carolina Division of Confederate Veterans. Four cars, each bearing an appropriate banner, were set apart for the use of the veterans. The banner on one of the cars bore these words, "First at at Gettysburg and last at Appomatox;" on another, "Alpha—North Carolina, C. S. A.—Omega." The other two cars bore the names of the R. F. Webb and M. V. Ballard camps of Confederate Veterans.

A "veterans' special" was made up at Raleigh, but this side of Burlington the engine broke down and the four cars were added to the regular Raleigh train, which arrived nearly three-quarters of an hour late on that account.

AYCOCK BY FIFTY THOUSAND.

BELLAMY MAKES THESE FIGURES.

His Views on North Carolina—Simmons or Waddell for Senator—Amendment Certain—The Adjournment of Congress.

Correspondence of the Telegram.

Washington, May 29.—With the view of adjourning finally on June 6th, the indications are that there will be much work crowded into the sessions of both the Senate and the House of Representatives during the present week. In the Senate the appropriation bills will have the right of way. The sundry civil bill was discussed yesterday and its discussion will be continued through today. On Wednesday the Montana election contest will have the right of way under a special order heretofore made, but the indications are that it will be speedily disposed of by the reference of the contest to the committee on privileges and elections for investigation, and the matter will then go over until next session. After that there will be the military bill, and general deficiency bill undisposed of, besides several bills which are in conference. Saturday will be devoted in the Senate to eulogies on the late Reprerepresentative Green of Nebraska

In the House the order of business is rather undecided. All of the big appropriation bills having been acted upon in their first stages by the House. Of course the various conference reports will have the right of way. When conference reports are not being considered, numbers will be given a liberal chance to get small bills through in which they are interested. Members of the House always at the end of the session show considerable uneasiness to get their measures through before final adjournment. Efforts are being made to get a special order for the consideration of the bill for the Louisiana purchase fair. The circular for this now bears over two hundred signatures, and a special rule will probably be brought into the House.

Representative Bellamy, who since his entrance into the congressinal arena, has easily taken the first rank among the members of the North Carolina delegation today delivers the literary address at Davidson College. While in the state recently Mr. Bellamy had occasion to take notice of the situation down there, in which he is naturally much interested. He says that there is no doubt of the adoption of the proposed constitutional amendment, limiting negro suffrage, and his predictions are that the amendment will carry, and that Aycock will be elected governor by upwards of fifty thousand majority next August.

Mr. Bellamy is of the opinion that ex-congressman Waddell, or chairman Simmons of the Democratic state committee, will succeed Senator Butler as United States Senator.

He is also of the opinion that Representative White, the only negro in the House of Representatives at present will be defeated, and that the delegation of North Carolina in the next House will be solidly Democratic.

To Speak at Walnut Cove.

The Democrats of Walnut Cove have engaged Solicitor A. L. Brooks to speak at that place tomorrow night. Mr. Brooks is a strong speaker and never fails to impress his hearers. The Walnut Cove Democrats will give him a rousing reception.

J. J. Smith, a Woodman at Monroe's turpentine camp, twenty miles north of Lake City, Fla., and his brother, D. L. Smith, were shot Sunday night by C. P. Munn, all white. J. J. Smith was killed and his brother is dying. Munn claimed an incorrect time statement and swore he would kill the Smiths. The murderer is still at large.

Senator Foraker admitted at Columbus, Ohio, the other day that he would present President McKinley's name to the Republican National Convention to be held in Philadelphia.

YOUNG GIRL KILLS A BULL.

Altoona, Pa., Dispatch, 27th.

Mary Potter, aged 15, of Milesburg, is the heroine of the village, through a deed of courage by which she saved her mother's life and killed a vicious bull. The girl's mother, who is near 60, was driving cattle to the barn when a Jersey bull turned on her, throwing her in the air and trampling and kicking her. The screams of the injured woman attracted the attention of her daughter, who secured a pitchfork and ran to the rescue. The bull bore down on the girl but she stepped aside and ran the tines in the animal's side. The second stroke sent the fork into the bull's heart and he rolled over dead.

Mrs. Potter was found to be terribly injured, but will recover. After killing the bull and finding her mother yet alive, the girl fainted. Mother and daughter were both carried to the farmhouse.

The Typewriter and the Eye.

There is the general opinion among oculists that the eye is much relieved by the general introduction of typewritten matter. A recent medical work upon diseases of the eye gives a great many proofs in substantiation of this opinion.

The characters are so large on the keys that there is no appreciable strain on the vision, and when dexterity is attained the eyes can scarcely be said to be used at all. A vast strain is taken off the eye by writing with the typewriter instead of the pen, but the advantages of reading the typewritten matter are even more important from a medical point of view, and the strain upon the hands is also slight.

It is said that a person can work for eight consecutive hours, with slight interruptions, without the hands being conscious of fatigue. In using the typewriter the additional labor of focusing the eyes calls the muscles into undue use, and the result is that many defects of vision which would not probably be discovered under normal conditions are brought to the front.—Scientific American.

Paris Is France.

Paris has always been France. All the great movements of the country have been centered here, whether political, religious, social, literary or artistic. So that any attempt to trace the history of the city launches one immediately into the study of the nation, while an effort to master the history of the French people sends one to Paris. One realizes this particularly when he comes to study the lives of her great men and women. They may have been born in the south or east or north or west, but to rise to the first rank they were obliged to seek the capital. It was there they sought instruction, formed relations, began their careers, played their parts.—Scribner's.

A Wonderful Geological Freak.

Among the many wonderful freaks in nature there can be none in the geological line that can possibly excel that known as "The Giant's Head." It stands, or, rather, reclines, against the face of the cliff at Point Pinos, in Monterey county, Cal., and all who have viewed the wonder declare it to be the most colossal as well as the most marvelous freak in natural sculpture in existence.

All portions of the "head" except the back, which appears to be "blocked" into the metamorphic rocks against which it seems to be so naturally reclining, are as perfect as though fresh from the hands of some giant sculptor. The chin, mouth, nose, eyes and brow are all perfect, as is also the hair, which appears to be gracefully drawn back from the forehead.

The ears are not so "true to life" as the other features are, but even in this respect no stretch of the imagination is required in order to see tolerably perfect auricular appendages. The bold features, backward wave of the hair, massive forehead, mustache, finely chiseled nostrils and deep set eyes are all reproduced on a natural yet gigantic scale and with wonderful exactness.

Hailstones in India are said to be from 5 to 20 times larger than those in England or America.

AN ANCIENT BELIEF.

The ancients believed that rheumatism was the work of a demon within a man. Any one who has had an attack of siatic or inflammatory rheumatism will agree that the affliction is demoniac enough to warrant the belief. It has never been claimed that Chamberlain's Pain Balm would cast out demons, but it will cure rheumatism, and hundreds bear testimony to the truth of this statement. One application relieves the pain, and this quick relief which it affords is alone worth many times its cost. For sale by C. E. Holton, Druggist.

DOES IT PAY TO BUY CHEAP?

A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right, but you want something that will relieve and cure the more severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, if possible; if not possible for you, then in either case take the only remedy that has been introduced in all civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles, "Boschee's German Syrup." It not only heals and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germ disease, but allays inflammation, causes easy expectoration, gives a good night's rest, and cures the patient. Try one bottle. Recommended many years by all druggists in the world. For sale by Grissom & Fordham.

Bare feet are almost preferable to some shoes. The kind that it is necessary to break in generally make a man break out and say things. We had made purposely for comfort a lot of men's fine kid shoes in lace and congress. The prices are right.

GOOD PLUMBING

Costs less than poor and unsanitary work,

It may cost a little more at first to have us do your work as it should be done, but you will save the second installment which is so often paid to the "doctor" when work is not properly done. Let us do your plumbing and it will be done right, and the price will be as low as consistent with good work.

SPAIN'S GREATEST NEED

Mr. R. P. Olivia, of Barcelona, Spain, spends his winters at Aiken, S. C. Weak nerves had caused severe pains in the back of his head. On using Electric Bitters, America's greatest blood and nerve remedy, all pain soon left him. He says this grand medicine is what his country needs. All America knows that it cures liver and kidney trouble, purifies the blood, tones up the stomach, strengthens the nerves, puts vim, vigor and new life into every muscle, nerve and organ of the body. If weak, tired or ailing you need it. Every bottle guaranteed, only 50c. Sold by C.E. Holton druggist.

"I had stomach trouble twenty years and gave up hope of being cured till I began to use Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It has done me so much good I call it the savior of my life," writes W. R. Wilkinson, Albany, Tenn. It digests what you eat. Howard Gardner.

EDITOR'S AWFUL PLIGHT

F. M. Higgins, Editor Seneca, (Ill.,) News, was afflicted for years with piles that no doctor or remedy helped until he tried Bucklen's Arnica Salve. He writes that two boxes wholly cured him. It's the surest pile cure on earth and the best salve in the world. Cure guaranteed. Only 25 cents. Sold by C. E. Holton druggist.

I WISH TO INFORM YOU

A PLEASURE AND A DUTY.

I consider it not only a pleasure but a duty I owe to my neigbors to tell about the wonderful cure affected in my case by the timely use of Chamberlain' Colic, Cholera, and Diarrhoea Remedy. A few doses of it affected a permanent cure. I take pleasure in recommending it to others suffering from that dreadful disease.—J. W. Lynch, Dorr, W. Va. This remedy is sold by C. E. DYSPEPSIA

"My wife suffered for many years from Nervous Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Sleeplessness and Nervous Debility," writes John Kelloes, Philadelphia. "We tried many physicians and numerous remedies, but with no results, until I heard of Johnson's Dyspepsia Cure. We bought six boxes, and the results far surpassed our expectations. She now eats and sleeps well, is gaining in flesh, and her color, which had got to be yellow and sickly, is now as fresh as when we were first married, and I tell her that Johnson's Dyspepsia Cure has made her ten years younger."

SENSITIVE WOMAN.

There is a wonderful little tropical plant, the mimosa or sensitive plant as it is called. The curious thing about it is that if you pinch any part of the root or the stem, all the delicate little branches and fragile leaves will curl up and shrink together as if they had been blighted with a sudden frost.

Woman's delicate and sensitive organism is remarkably like this little plant. If the very roots of a woman's life are injured or diseased, her whole being suffers, both physical and mental. She shrinks within herself and covers up her sufferings enduring all in silence as best she may.

"My son's wife had been for years a great sufferer; all broken down and very weak and nervous," says Mrs. Betsey M. White, of Stonycreek, Warren Co., N. Y. "She was troubled with all the pains and aches one's slender could endure. She took everything she heard of, hoping to get help, but in vain. The doctors said she could not live to have another child as she came near dying so many times. She tried Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and it did wonders for her.

"This spring she had a nice boy weighing eleven pounds; she got through before we could get anyone there. I was afraid she would not live. We cried for joy when we saw how nicely she got along. I cannot say enough in praise of your 'Favorite Prescription.' I never sent a recommendation of a medicine before. I hope all women will try it. May God bless you for the good you have done."

Any woman may write to R. V. Pierce, M. D., of Buffalo, N. Y., in absolute confidence. Her communication will be thoroughly and earnestly considered and she will receive sound, professional, fatherly advice (in a plain sealed envelope) free of charge.

GUILFORD IS THE HUB.

We have before remarked that Guilford is the leading county of North Carolina in education; verily this is no vain boasting. Not only was the first tax for the support of public schools voted here, but the county is the only one in the State which has two systems of city schools. Our commencement season is now on in all its glory, and we are all happy, because it is a season of pleasure and gaiety, of lightness and brightness, of airiness and sunshine, withal a great time for the young folks and a hard one for the older ones, upon whom the work and worry falls—but happiness for both.

Of course, in our commencement season we are attracting more speakers of reputatian to our borders than has any other county. At the city schools of both High Point and Greensboro we had that distinguished North Carolina educator, Dr. Geo. T. Winston, who is now attracting so much attention as the leader in what may be called the new phase of education in our State particularly, and in the South in general. Whitsett had as her orator a distinguished editor in the person of Mr. Josephus Daniels, while Guilford College chose the retiring President of our University, whose increasing fame has all too soon called him from us—Dr. E. A. Alderman. Professnrs Holt, of Oak Ridge, were fortunate in bringing to them that gallant and beloved old hero and polished gentleman, General John B. Gordon. Col. Jno. F. Bruton, of Wilson, an eloquent member of the bar, delivers the Greensboro Female College address this evening, following the sermon today by Rev. Dr. Atkins, of Nashville, Sunday School Editor for the Methodist Church, South. Next month we shall have at the State Normal and Industrial College Congressman DeArmond, of Missouri.

It is a great pleasure to have so many and such distinguished visitors to help us along in our educational work, to lend counsel and inspiration.

THEY DO NOT UNDERSTAND.

Carl Schurz is a really smart German who immigrated to this country just before the breaking out of the Civil War. He at once took up the task of running this country, having no doubt failed in an attempt to do a similar duty for his native land. His first efforts were directed towards relieving Mr. Lincoln of the burden of conducting the war. The doughty rail splitter, however, refused to be relieved. Among Mr. Schurz's next public efforts was one to secure the German vote of the country, which he told himself he carried in his vest pocket, for Horace Greeley, upon whom, the Democrats in their distraction and humiliation, turned as their nominee for president. In this, also, Mr. Schurz was unable to lay his hand upon the goal of success.

The New York Times quotes Mr. Schurz as having said that he had never failed to arouse the people when he appealed to them on a plain moral issue which they could be made to understand. He has lately been failing lamentably to arouse them to enthusiasm on the subject of anti-imperialism, which, we judge would come under his definition of a plain moral question, inasmuch as he says that we are in the Philippines by flagrant usurpation, and hold them as "stolen goods, goods obtained by fraud, treachery, and brutal force." Taking into consideration all of Mr. Schurz's statements, comparing them, and associating with them the fact that the people have not been awakened by his efforts, we are driven to the irresistable conclusion that the people cannot be made to understand.

We regret this. It is seldom that one man finds two whole nations of people whom he cannot make to understand. It is not possible that the people have gone back on Mr. Schurz. Perish the thought. They would never go back on so valuable a guide and teacher. They just simply can't understand; the poor thick skulled people, they cannot understand their friend and benefactor, the heretofore successful preceptor of mankind.

We are all down here disposed to think well of Mr. Walter H. Page, and to feel proud that he happened to be born in North Carolina. For our part, we shall cease to shy our chapeau towards the etherial blue in honor of Mr. Page unless he gets a better grip on the facts than he seems to have done in the following utterances credited to him:

The most unfortunate series of events in recent Southern life has been the incorporation in the constitution of one State after another of clauses which were meant to disfranchise men because of their color. * * * Unhappily, a comparatively large section of Southern public opinion seems to believe that the disfranchisement of the blacks because they are blacks is necessary.

Nobody wants to disfranchise the negro because he is black, and Mr. Page might have at least learned that much in his flying trip to this State during vacations. The fact that the negro is black is merely an incident. Mr. Page's supposed sapiency is equaled only by the like article of the Washngton Post, whose cocksure presumption in speaking of Southern subjects is surpassed only by the profundity of its own ignorance.

The girl who saved her mother's life by killing an infuriated bull with a pitchfork, certainly has the instincts of true womanhood—brave as a lion when it is necessary to protect a loved one, and weak and swooning when all the danger is over.

Those who fail to bear Col. Bruton tonight will miss a great opportunity of hearing a most polished and charming orator. Greensboro welcomes him not as a stranger, for he has passed at least a portion of his life here.

The successive failures and defalcations of gentlemen from Ohio will not serve to eclipse the glory of that State as a recruiting ground for the President when in need of appointees.

The citizeds of Hiawatha, Kan., are divided into two hostile camps over a curious question. Some time ago a wealthy woman died and was buried. When her will was opened it was discovered that she had left $500 for the improvement of the cemetery in which she should be buried. The managers of the cemetery in which she wasn't buried are trying to have the body moved, and the people have taken sides.

The Chapel Hill News advocates the election of Prof. Gore, of the faculty, as president of the University to succeed Dr. Alderman. Prof. Gore is a man of excutive ability and Presidents Battle, Winston aud Alderman, during their incumbencies, always left him in charge of affairs while they were temporarily absent.

Governor Pingree's plan of giving poor people in the cities small patches of land on which to raise vegetables has been tried in Boston, but has failed. The reason assigned is that there is so little idleness and poverty at the Hub the poor people do not need this sort of relief.

The loss by the recent fire at Belmont was $100,000. The college building will be rebnilt at once.

BEER, SAYS THE CHEMIST.

Samples of Malt Being Sold in Greensboro Analyzed.

Some days ago the Telegram referred to the fact that the authorities would investigate the sale of malt extract, which had become a popular beverage with many people in Greensboro. Accordingly three samples were purchased from as many different places and sent to a chemist for anaylsis, along with three samples of lager beer. The analysis proved the malt to be nothing more nor less than beer, some of it containing even more alcohol than beer.

When the result of the analysis was made known Chief of Police Scott notified the dealers to stop the sale of malt or they would be prosecuted for violating the law in selling intoxicants. In justice to the dealers it may be said that they have bought and sold the stuff as malt, doing this open and above board.

It is a fact which may not be generally known that the law requires a State and county license to sell even malt. The Greensboro dealers have been selling it under United States license only.

Anti-Church Hat Movement to Triumph.

Atlanta Journal.

The triumph of the anti-church hat movement is certain. Nor can it be long delayed. Trinity church was crowded by a great congregation yesterday. The Rev. Dr. Stradley, at the opening of the service requested that the ladies of the congregation remove their hats. He stated that he did so because it was desirable that all persons in the congregation should see the speakers. Dr. Stradley expressed the hope that the ladies of his congregation would habitually remove their hats in church.

Nearly every hat in church came off. The congegation must have been struck with the improved condition which ensued. An impressive object lesson was presented which will hasten the triumph of the anti-church hat crusade.

Atlanta will take the lead in this righteous movement and other cities will follow.

The time is not far distant when we may all see as well as hear the preacher.

A Close Call.

Once I sailed these seas, where are the cannibals, with a corpulent captain. Whenever a chief came on board the first thing he was sure to admire was the proportions of our gallant tar, and the chief would feel him and smack his own lips and turn up his own eyes at the prospect of so much fatness—going to waste, as one may say. These attentions our skipper very much disliked.

Well, one day both boats were absent trading, and it fell suddenly calm. "The old man" (the forecastle name for a skipper) and self were the only whites on board. The strong currents caught the vessel and carried her on to the rocks, and we could get no bottom a hundred yards from the shore. The underflow from the waves kept her from striking. The natives gathered on the cliffs, as ravens to a carcass, waiting for the catastrophe. I took off all my clothes, and we waited and waited for some two hours, the natives recognizing the captain and telling him plainly they would eat him at last.

The strain on our nerves may be imagined. At last the captain's gave way. "Goodby, G——, old fellow," he said. "Those beasts will have me in the ovens at once. You may escape—you are thin. If you see my old girl again, tell her I was thinking of her at the last." This was said with a gulp and a quiver in the voice. But just then the two boats came round the point, having at last heard our stern guns, and we were saved.—"Among the Man Eaters," by John Gaggin.

Where It Rains Frogs.

Every once in awhile stories are brought out about extraordinary showers of fish, of bloody snow, etc., the latest thing being of a ship captain far out on the Atlantic who ran into a dust shower so heavy he had to set his crew shoveling the dust from the decks when the weight began to get dangerous. To this be there added a tale:

It rains frogs in Arizona. The old timers believe there is no doubt of it, though they cannot explain whence the frogs were originally "lifted." But this much is straight—let there be a summer rain along the line of the southern Pacific in southwestern Arizona, and behold the next morning every little pool has a myriad of little lean green frogs with marvelous croaking powers. They don't wait for nightfall like their more civilized brothers elsewhere, but keep up the music by day as by night. They live where water comes only about once a year. They can't live over the interim under the sun baked black rocks. They assuredly haven't hopped from the Colorado river, and they are all of a size to boot. If they didn't come from the ground or from the river, they must have come from the skies.

No Chance For Him.

Three negro lads met on a street corner one afternoon, and by some queer freak of Providence each had just 15 cents. This was considerable for them, and, being so unfortunate as to have no "craps," it required much serious deliberation to arrive at just the best plan for spending it.

Finally one suggested that they place their little capital in a pool and then, each in turn, guess what was good to eat, the best guesser to take all of the money.

This plan met with hearty approval, as each one had ideas on that subject, and the 45 cents was soon in a pile. Then the first one guessed.

"Possum, sweet taters an watermelon," he said.

At this the second one reached down and began picking up his nickels, but the third stopped him with: "Hol' on dare! Let dat money 'lone!" To which the second replied:

"You think I'ze goin to guess agains' that fool nigger when he's done said all der is good ter eat?"—Types.

The Stupid Thing.

"Do you think the shortest route to a man's heart is through his stomach?" asked Miss Gabby as she prepared to exhibit her skill with the chafing dish to young Dr. Powers.

LOST HIS BATTLE FOR LIFE.

STRUGGLES OF A DROWNING MAN.

Several Times His Brother-in-Law Helped Him to a Boat, But It Slipped Out of Their Grasp --- Noose Thrown From a Bridge Fell Around His Body, But He Slipped Out of It and Sank.

New York S n.

The body of James Cavanaugh was recovered from the Passaic river at Newark yesterday morning, near the spot where he went down from a capsized boat the night before. Cavanaugh and George Burns, who lived in the same house at 15 Foundry street, worked all of Saturday afternoon on a sailboat owned by Anthony Smith, which was anchored a few hundred feet of the float of the Newark Rowing Club. They had considerable to do in mending the rigging and fixing the craft up for Memorial Day, and they did not stop work until about 8 o'clock.

They jumped into a small rowboat, which was fast to the sailboat, and Burns started to untie the painter while Cavanaugh stood in the stern. Just as the painter came loose Cavanaugh fell overboard. The boat capsized and both men were struggling in the river. The tide was running out strong, Cavanaugh could not swim, and therowboat was carried off toward the Plank Road Bridge. After a hard struggle Burns managed to get hold of the boat and to drag his companion to it. They got a good grip on it, but it was round-bottomed and it turned over again. Again Burns dragged Cavanaugh to the boat, and it turned over a second time. This happened once or twice more. Every time the boat turned the men went down, and the struggle was very weakening.

The shouts of Burns and Cavanaugh attracted the attention of Mrs. Harry Wright, whose home is near the clubhouse, and she called to several telegraph linemen who were working on the Plank Road Bridge. The linemen at once clambered out on the string piece of the bridge, calling encouragingly to the two men in the water, and planning to throw them ropes as the boat borne by the tide should pass below them. The linemen say they saw the rowboat turn turtle two or three times, and they saw burns pluckily seize Cavanaugh and haul him toward the boat.

William Burns, employed as an inspector for the North Jersey Street Railway, who was with the linemen, threw a rope to the men in the river as soon as the boat came near enough. The other Burns caught hold of it and James Bogan and Joseph Lynch pulled him to safety. Another rope was thrown to Cavanaugh. It was tied in a slip noose and it landed on the drowning man's head. He was so tar spent that he either did not know that succor was so close and did not feel the rope under his shoulders, or else he had not strength enough to raise his arms.

To their horror the men on the bridge saw Cavanaugh slip out of the loop and sink. They yelled in hoarse chorus for him to seize the rope. Cavanaugh heard them calling and turned his gaze toward them. His eyes were dull and he seemed to only half comprehend. He moved his arms feebly, but he could not lay hold of the rope. The water closed over him and he never rose again.

Burns revived quickly. Cavanaugh was his brother-in-law. He could not nerve himself to tell Cavanaugh's family, so he stayed all night at the car house of the trolley railroad company, which is near by the rowing club's house.

Cavanaugh leaves a widow and five children.

Mr. Wm. R. Hearst, proprietor of The San Francisco Examiner and New York Journal, is now spoken of as a Democratic vice-presidential candidate.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and othaches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to moke you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. For sale by Grissom & Fordham.

WINE OF CARDUI

THE LINK THAT BINDS.

JACKSON, TENN., NOV. 23.

I was subject to miscarriage for three years, and suffered constantly with backache. I wrote to you for advice, and after using three bottles of Wine of Cardui, according to your directions, I am strong and well, and the mother of a fine girl baby.

Mrs. E. N. JOWERS.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui

There is no use talking—a baby in the house is the link that binds husband and wife together. Nothing is sadder than fruitless wedlock. The prattling and cooing of the little ones offset a thousand times the occasional worries and trials of life. When a wife is barren, there is a derangement somewhere in the genital organs, caused by one or more of those common disorders known as "female troubles". Wine of Cardui is the remedy. It puts the organs of generation in a strong and healthy condition, fitting the wife for the sacred duty of reproducing her kind. During the period of gestation the entire system of the expectant mother is built up to withstand the ordeal of labor, and when the little one makes its advent it is lusty and strong, well-fitted to grow to maturity in perfect health. The mother, too, passes through the trial with little pain and no dread. Wine of Cardui is truly a wonderful medicine for women.

HE BEGAN ALL RIGHT

BUT THE NEW TENANT DID NOT CARRY OUT HIS PROGRAMME.

He Thought He Could Bluff the Office Elevator Boy, and There Is Where He Made an Awful Mistake—The Boy's Story of His Revenge.

[Copyright, 1900, by C. B. Lewis.]

A few weeks ago, when Mr. Rockaway, the kodak agent, moved into room 68, he took an early opportunity to say to me:

"Sammis, there are owners of skyscrapers, and there are agents and janitors of skyscrapers, but the elevator boy is the real boss."

"Yes, sir; he is," I humbly replied.

"If he stands in with the tenant, that tenant is all right; if he don't stand in, then the tenant might as well hunt for another office. I want to stand in with you, Sammis."

"Yes, sir."

"You are a widow's son. Here's half a dollar to cheer your mother's lonely heart. You are trying to pay off the gigantic mortgage left on the estate by your father. Here's another half to assist you. This is simply preparatory, Sammis. Quarters and halves and dollars will chink and rattle around here and pass from me to you with astonishing frequency. All you've got to do is to look out for my interests."

"Yes, sir."

"Should a woman call here, Sammis—an oldish woman, with red hair and a sharp nose and a voice like a file"—

"You are out, of course. She's the woman who wants contributions for the heathen, and you don't want to be bothered."

"Exactly, Sammis! And you are a jewel!" he said as he patted me on the head. "I am always to be out when she calls. You are to discourage her from calling again. You may even hint that I have removed to Chicago or St. Louis. I see you closely scrutinizing my side whiskers, Sammis. Don't you like the color?"

"Yes, sir, but they are false."

"Ah, Sammis, another quarter for the gigantic mortgage. It's a little notion of mine to wear false whiskers for a few weeks, and nothing need be said about it. What we know we know, but we keep mum about it. You trust me; I trust you. We'll make that mortgage look sick in a month or two. Ta, ta, Sammis! I think we understand each other."

I thought so, too, and it was all right for two or three weeks. Mr. Rockaway didn't come down with any more halves, but I didn't lay that up against him. It was what he said and did that hurt my feelings. One day at the fourth floor a lawyer's boy called me a sawed off liar. I stopped the elevator to punch his head and thus was late getting up to answer a call from Mr. Rockaway. He was mad about it, and, taking me by the ear, he said:

"You trifling young monkey, but I'll have no more of this! I've a good mind to report you to the agent and have you bounced! What do you mean by such conduct?"

"I'm sorry, sir."

"That makes no difference. From this time out I shall have an eye on you, and you'll either walk chalk or get the bounce. Do you hear me?"

The iron struck home. From that hour I waited and longed for a redheaded, sharp nosed woman to appear. Luck was with me. On the afternoon of the fifth day she walked in and made straight for me and said:

"Have you got business with him?" I asked.

"I have—strict business. Is there such a man in this building?"

"There is a Mr. Rockaway here, but he's got side whiskers."

"Oh, he has! Well, I'll pull 'em off in three seconds! Take me right up."

I took her up. I am not a bad elevator boy at heart, but a boy in my position has got to maintain his dignity among the tenants. I held the elevator until I saw her enter room 68 and heard the first shock of collision, and then I had business elsewhere. What happened after that was told by the typewriter in Mr. Rockaway's office. When the redheaded woman bounced into the room, she first attacked those beautiful side whiskers, and they were wrecked in a breath. Then she started in to wreck things, and her language was English and her tones loud. She had the whole floor alarmed in two minutes, and the people who rushed in found the typewriter girl hiding under the desk and Mr. Rockaway on the floor and mixed up with broken furniture. It was lively while it lasted, and the redheaded woman had breath enough left to explain that the man on his back was her lawful husband, but had run away from her in Buffalo a year before. He had nothing to say in reply, and when the agent came up and told him that he had better look for other quarters he prepared to move.

I didn't see him until the remains of his office furniture had been sent away. Then he rang for me to take him down. He had not resumed his side whiskers. There were scratches all over his face and neck, a lump on his jaw, and the wildness yet lingered in his eyes. I expected he would threaten or reproach me, but he didn't feel at all that way. On the contrary, there was sadness in his voice and gentleness in his hand as he reached out for a farewell shake and said:

"Sammis, I cannot blame you. I began right, but I did not carry out the programme. I started in to be a father to you and to help lift that gigantic mortgage, but later on I decided that bluff would be the game to work. You saw my bluff and went one better. It was you who brought her up?"

"Yes, sir."

"And you gave my side whiskers away?"

"Yes, sir."

"Well, it was my own fault. Office gone, whiskers gone, typewriter gone and the redheaded woman camped on my trail. I am financially ruined, Sammis, and can't say that I have even saved my honor. However, here's my hand, and I bear you no ill will. If I die, I shall forgive you; if I live on, it will be a great moral lesson to me."

That afternoon Mr. Rasher, the agent, called me into his office and said:

"Sammis, has your wounded dignity been healed?"

"Yes, sir."

"Then don't take any more redheaded women up in the elevator. Such little affairs as that in room 68 cause gossip and hurt our business."

Just at present our building is as quiet as a graveyard, and I hope it may long remain so. Something may bob up at any moment, however, but if it does it will not be the fault of SAMMIS, the Elevator Boy.

CATARRH CAN BE CURED BY

Johnston's Sarsaparilla

QUART BOTTLES.

"DANGER IN THE EARTH AND AIR; DANGER EVERYWHERE."

In a leading hotel, in a great city, a famous and aged physician was conversing. Listening to his wise and sententious discourse, were a group of well dressed men, evidently lawyers, business men and commercial travelers.

My firm belief, is "that medical science is certain yet to show that all diseases without exception are caused by invisible germs which are living organisms. Here is the germ of that terrible disease diphtheria. Here is the bacillus of typhoid fever; and here is the still more dreadful bacillus of tubercle which causes that most destructive of all diseases, consumption. This of that very common and supposed incurable disease, catarrh."

"I wish, Doctor," said the traveling man, "that you would tell us about catarrh. I have had it for years, and I am thoroughly discouraged."

The Doctor answered. "Catarrh, like diphtheria, consumption, typhoid fever, and a host of other diseases, is the result of a microbe invading the blood and attacking specially the mucous membrane. This foul and most disgusting disease is especially prevalent in the United States and it is rare to meet one who is not, or has not been troubled more or less with it. How often is he or she obliged to remain at home from pleasant entertainments, deprive themselves of many intellectual treats, from fear of the disagreeable odor arising from catarrhal affections. In its worst phase, the patient becomes loathsome both to himself and his friends.

"I believe," continued this great physician, "that the true way to heal catarrh is to medicate the blood. This can be done only by powerful alteratives which act as blood purifiers."

Betsy A. Marett, of Manistee, Manistee Co., Mich., writes:

Dear Sirs:—For ten years I was a sufferer from general debility and chronic catarrh. My face was pale as death. I was weak and short of breath. I could hardly walk, I was so dizzy and had a ringing in my head all the time. My hands and feet were always cold. My appetite was very poor. On getting up in the morning, my head swam so I was often obliged to lie down again. I had awful pains in the small of my back. I had a continual feeling of tiredness. My muscular power was almost entirely gone, and I couldn't go half a dozen steps without stopping to rest, and often that much exercise caused me to have a pain in my side. It seemed as though the blood had left my veins. The doctors said my blood had all turned to water. I had given up all hope of ever getting well. I tried the best physicians in the state, but failed to get any relief. My husband got me a bottle of Johnston's Sarsaparilla. I took it, and then I bought another. When these had been used, I was somewhat improved in health. I continued its use, and felt I was growing stronger; my sleep was refreshing, and it seemed as if I could feel new blood moving through my veins. I kept on taking it, and now consider myself a well and rugged woman. I work all the time, and am happy. I am positive that the Sarsaparilla saved my life. The sick headaches I have had since childhood, have disappeared, and my catarrh has almost entirely left me. I cannot be too thankful for what Johnston's Sarsaparilla has done for me. I recommend all women who have sick headaches to use your Sarsaparilla.

RHEUMATISM Distorts Muscles, Shatters Nerves, Stiffens Joints.

Is due to an acid poison which gains access to the blood through failure of the proper organs to carry off and keep the system clear of all morbid, effete matter. This poison through the general circulation is deposited in the joints, muscles and nerves, causing the most intense pain.

Rheumatism may attack with such suddenness and severity as to make within a few days a healthy, active person helpless and bed-ridden, with distorted limbs and shattered nerves; or it may be slow in developing, with slight wandering pains, just severe enough to make one feel uncomfortable; the tendency in such cases is to grow worse, and finally become chronic.

Like other blood diseases, Rheumatism is often inherited, and exposure to damp or cold, want of proper food, insufficient clothing, or anything calculated to impair the health, will frequently cause it to develop in early life, but more often not until middle age or later. In whatever form, whether acute or chronic, acquired or inherited, Rheumatism is Strictly a Blood Disease, and no liniment or other external treatment can reach the trouble. Neither do the preparations of potash and mercury, and the various mineral salts, which the doctors always prescribe, cure Rheumatism, but ruin the digestion and break down the constitution.

A remedy which builds up the general health and at the same time rids the system of the poison is the only safe and certain cure for Rheumatism. S. S. S., made of roots, herbs and barks of wonderful solvent, purifying properties, attacks the disease in the right way, and in the right place—the blood—and quickly neutralizes the acid and dissolves all poisonous deposits, stimulates and reinforces the overworked, worn-out organs, and clears the system of all unhealthy accumulations. S. S. S. cures permanently and thoroughly, and keeps the blood in a pure, healthy state.

Mr. J. O. Malley, 123 W. 15th Street, Indianapolis, Ind., for eighteen months was so terribly afflicted with Rheumatism he was unable to feed or dress himself. Doctors said his case was hopeless. He had tried fifty-two prescriptions that friends had given him, without the slightest relief. A few bottles of S. S. S. cured him permanently, and he has never had a rheumatic pain since. This was five years ago.

We will send free our special book on Rheumatism, which should be in the hands of every sufferer from this torturing disease. Our physicians have made blood and skin diseases a life study, and will give you any information or advice wanted, so write them fully and freely about your case. We make no charge whatever for this service. Address, SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Atlanta, Ga.

BRIEFLY MENTIONED.

A Few of the Things Heard in Town on a Hot Day.

Mrs. Gladstone's condition is becoming more and more critical.

Mr. Buck, snperintendent of the Hucomuga Cotton Mills, has bought a lot and is preparing to build a residence on Summit avenue.

Mr. James M. Medley, of Manchester, Va., and Miss Minnie B. Moore, of Bown Summit, were married today at the home of the bride.

Chief of Police Scott and Messrs. W. J. Blackburn, R. M. Rees, S L. Gilmer and several others went fishing yesterday, but they are not bragging on their catch.

Tomorrow being a legal holiday (Decoration Day) Sunday hours will be observed at the postoffice. Open only from 8:30 to 9:30 a. m.

The library of the Lindsay Street School will be open Wednesdays and Saturdays from 10:30 to 11:30 to white children from schools Nos. 1, 2, and 3, and to former graduates.

News was received here today that Capt. R. P. Henry, of Avalon, Rockingham county, was painfully injured in a fall from a dam, the construction of which he was superintending. Capt. Henry is a brother-in-law of Mr. S. L. Trogdon.

Thanks.

The ladies who had charge of the Spinsters' Convention would like to thank all who by their aid and influence made it such a success. The young ladies and gentlemen who so cheerfully gave up all other engagements to attend the rehearsals, Mr McAdoo for the use of the Academy and numbers of courtesies, the Record and Telegram for so splendidly advertising it, and the public for its generous patronage. You have helped a good cause, you have our warmest thanks.

COMMITTEE.

Still in Death.

Mr. W. L. Enoch, who was paralyzed Friday, died at 11:30 this morning at the home of Mrs. Fagan, where he was carried after being stricken. The body was carried to his late home near Stokesdale this afternoon. The funeral will take place at Sardis church tomorrow afternoon.

Mr. Enouch was 63 years old and leaves a wife and several children.

New York Cotton Market.

June and July cotton 58; August 34; September 7 92.

When Senator Hoar, of Massachusetts, was recently asked what he had been reading of late, he replied: "For serious work, 'David Harum;' for light reading and amusement, I've been through Gibbon again."

The United States Supreme Court decided Admiral Dewey's bounty claim against the admiral's contention. The effect is to deprive the admiral and the men engaged with him at Manila of half the amount claimed by them.

The postoffice at Marshall was robbed Saturday night of $4,000, part of the money belonging to the county, the postmaster also being deputy county treasurer.

A Prize Thought.

A teacher of music in one of the public schools of the south desired to impress the pupils with the meaning of the signs "f" and "ff" in a song they were about to sing. After explaining that "f" meant forte he said, "Now, children, if 'f' means forte, what does 'ff' mean?"

Silence reigned for a moment, and then he was astonished to hear a bright little fellow shout:

"Eighty!"—New Lippincott.

The Day After.

Mrs. Mixer—Tell me the worst, doctor. Is my husband's condition serious?

Doctor—There is no cause for alarm, madam. He is now out of danger, although suffering acutely from enlargement of the cerebral glands.

Mrs. Mixer—But, doctor, how do you suppose it was brought on?

Doctor—On a tray probably.—Chicago News.

Wanted a Stone.

"Have I not always been generous with you in the matter of household expenses?" he demanded.

"Yes," she replied bitterly. "I asked for a stone and ye gave me bread."

Then he realized that he would have to get her the diamond she desired before there would be peace in the family.—Chicago Post.

Strategy In the Pulpit.

"How did you gather such a large congregation of old and middle aged people?" asked the young minister of the old one.

"I advertised a sermon to the young," was the latter's reply.—Chicago News.
